

Question: How can we help more young people get involved in learning outside of school? Put your suggestions below...

Answers:

- Help with access to jobs that will lead somewhere in later life
- Take clubs and events to economically deprived areas where families cannot afford transport. School based activities work well as no transport problems!
- Prevention - start young - youth club activities
- Under 16's
- Snap-chat filters
- Use young people to promote
- Make it known
- Talk about it in schools
- Music
- Film, music, sports
- Youth clubs
- Facebook events
- Facebook, Instagram and Snapchat
- Make it cool
- More memes
- Nature survival fun camps
- Learning through games
- Advertising, target parents!
- Memes

- More activities for free around Brighton
- Youth club led by older kids
- Leadership skills
- Free transport / parking / travel pass
- Pay for travel
- Make it fun! Make it a game
- Flyers / posters in schools
- Facebook groups. E.g – HE
- Hand out flyers, make posters
- Paid jobs within
- Bribe them
- Treasure hunt!
- Make it cool
- Get people to go into school classrooms and talk about it
- Find out what young people are interested in doing when it comes to physical activities
- Not have to go to school
- Free food
- Get school websites to have links to these activities / projects
- Travelling – summer jobs, work experience, internships
- Encourage it as a method of gaining skills for later life
- Big meetings, events for charities, to teach and meet other friends outside of school
- Outside lessons
- Fashion, film, music, making

- Take all the cool stuff that happens in town, out to the wider community bases
- Come to schools to give us taster sessions
- Public advertisement

Trends / Common Themes:

Multiple responses related to helping toward paying or subsidising the costs for transport.

Multiple responses related to Facebook. From targeted advertising to help spread the word about events that involve learning outside of school, to Facebook community groups to discuss and promote these events.

Multiple responses related to school outreach, including having spokespeople come into classrooms to talk about upcoming events.

Multiple responses related to taking these events to wider community bases, specifically to economically disadvantaged areas.